Vietship is the largest and longest established exhibition in Vietnam featuring all aspect of Shipbuilding, Shipping and Offshore Technology. Vietship was first organized in 2002 and has gone through 9 successful editions. In 2025, Vietship will come back with a completely new appearance, focusing on shipbuilding and offshore technology.

Vietnam is fortunate to have some of the best natural conditions for offshore energy in Asia. Offshore power is considered a breakthrough solution to ensure national energy security, reduce dependence on imported fuels, and decrease emissions of pollutants and greenhouse gases. With the goal of meeting electricity demand, diversifying energy sources, and providing stable, reliable electricity to support the country's economic, social, and national security development, it is essential to build a strategy for offshore power development in Vietnam as a strong offshore power nation.

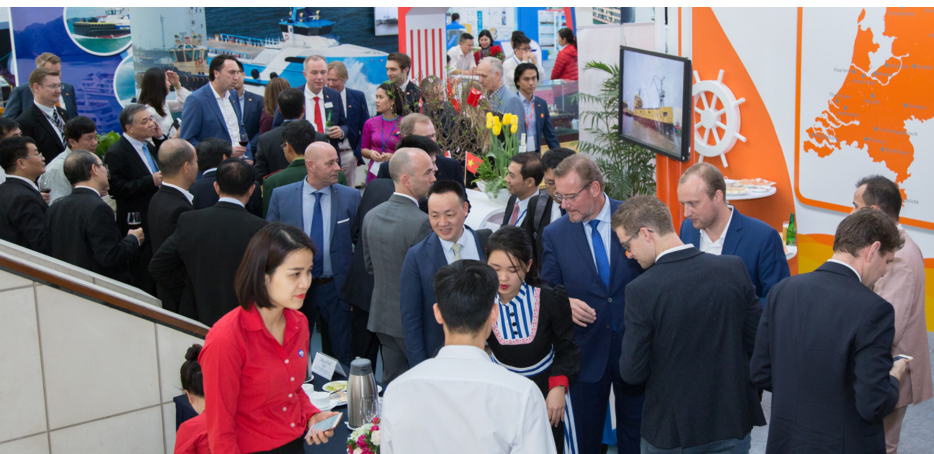

Therefore Vietship 2025 is expected to be the convergence and platform of advance technologies regional and worldwide on shipbuilding, ship repair, marine equipment, construction of marine structure and offshore energy services, with the goal of creating collaborative and innovative solutions to the challenges in the development of maritime and offshore energy industries.
